IRCTC vs Food Delivery Apps: Which is Better for Ordering Food in Train?

Train travel in India are thrilling, however one issue has always irked travelers: food on train. Traditional pantry services typically offer inadequate options, poor quality, and even unsanitary food. Although IRCTC eCatering is available however, it is not without difficulties, making it difficult for travelers to have an enjoyable meal on their travels.

RailRestro, an exclusive train-based app for food delivery is now an efficient solution, allowing customers to order food on trains online with confidence and ease.

Why IRCTC eCatering Often Disappoints

A lot of customers face problems when making purchases through IRCTC:

Food choices are limited: Mostly standard thalis with a few choices for non-veg, veg or regional cuisines.

Unconformity in hygiene The quality of food varies according to the station's vendor.

Poor customer service: Complaints and refunds could take several days to solve.

App interface that is complicated: The official app could be a bit confusing or even fail, resulting in delayed orders.

Cash payment is not accepted: Only online payment is accepted, which could be difficult for some travellers.

These issues render IRCTC not reliable for customers who are looking for clean, fresh, and delicious meals on trains.

Why RailRestro Stands Out

RailRestro offers an innovative method of taking orders for food on trains, with many advantages over the traditional IRCTC services:

A wide variety of meals: From North Indian and South Indian to Chinese, vegetarian, non-veg, Jain and regional specialties.

Fresh and Hygienic The food is cooked by certified restaurants and are delivered in hygienic, quality packaging.

Easy ordering: Passengers can simply input their PNR and select from the menus at upcoming stations.

Flexible Payment Option: Online payment and Cash on Delivery (COD) available.

real-time tracking: You will receive updates as to the time when your food is expected to arrive at your dining area.

Dependable Customer Support Rapid assistance when an issues arise.

RailRestro is a great option for passengers. RailRestro passengers do not have to fret about a lack of food or unhealthy food during lengthy train rides.

IRCTC vs RailRestro: A Clear Comparison

Feature	IRCTC eCatering (Cons)	RailRestro (Pros)
Variety of Meals	Repetitive, limited	A wide menu of veg Non-veg, regional,
Hygiene & Quality	Inconsistent	Verified restaurant, hygienic meals
Ease of Ordering	Complex, confusing	Simple app, just enter PNR and place an order
Payment Options	Only on the internet	Online + Cash on Delivery
Customer Support	Delays and slow	Rapid and responsive
Reliability	Mixed passenger reviews	Trusted by a plethora of travellers

How to Order Food in a Trains using RailRestro

Go to the RailRestro website or the RailRestro app.

Input Your PNR number as well as train information.

Explore through the menu available on your next stations.

Choose your favorite meals.

Select the payment option such as online or COD.

Confirm your purchase and track the deliver to your home.

It's easy, simple, and guarantees you healthy, fresh food throughout your trip.

Final Verdict

IRCTC eCatering does not have the same the variety of options of options, hygiene, and reliability. However, RailRestro provides an an overall better experience by offering a variety of menu options with verified hygiene, quick ordering, flexible payment methods and dependable delivery.

If you're looking for a traveler who is concerned about quality, hygiene and ease of use, RailRestro is definitely the best option for food delivery in trains.

Source: https://railrestroapp.wixsite.com/food/post/irctc-vs-food-delivery-apps-which-is-better-for-ordering-food-in-train